Public Notice
Notice of the Availability of an Environmental Assessment
and Finding of No Significant Impact for the City of Roseville Northeast Water Storage Reservoir Replacement Project Placer County, California

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has received an application for financial assistance from the City of Roseville for replacing their 6 million gallon (MG) northeast water storage reservoir. As required by the National Environmental Policy Act, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is issuing an Environmental Assessment (EA) that evaluates the environmental consequences of the proposed action of replacing the northeast water storage reservoir (tank).

This notice announces the availability for public review and comment of both the EPA EA for the Northeast Water Storage Reservoir Replacement Project, and its accompanying Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI).

The City of Roseville's existing 6 MG tank is located in the City of Rocklin. The proposed EPA-funded project would replace the existing seismically deficient tank with a 7.25 MG tank that meets current seismic safety standards, in order to maintain reliable and flexible treated water service to the City's residential, industrial and commercial customers.

The US EPA's EA and unsigned FONSI are available on the EPA's website at:
